Letters

To the Editor:

I just wanted to comment on the June issue of the Parallax. I wanted to let you know how much I enjoyed the “Letter Home from Camp” although I really thought it should have been titled “Phone call from crew in field”.

I also wanted to explain the photo on page 5 of the Parallax. I can’t, but I really did want to. There is a concern I saw in looking at the photos on pages 4 & 5 (Actually there are quite a bit of concerns but that is for another day).

I have not been active and involved in the Central Coast Chapter as long as many people, but there is one thing I have noticed in the past few years. We are not generating the interest in the newer and younger members of our profession, like we used to. I see committees stagnant because of a lack of new blood and high energy. One of the reasons our chapter has been so active over the years is because of the ability to pass the torch on to the newer members.

I have no immediate solution to the problem, but that won’t stop me from throwing out some ideas. We cannot expect the newer licenses to become interested unless we get them to the meetings. We need to personally invite these people to the meetings. In addition we need to actively support those that are working towards their license. We need these people to attend the meetings. We need to direct meetings, seminars and anything else that will interest the younger crowd. If you are new to the profession you need to ask questions to your superiors (and I use that word as a function of respect, not skill) about the profession and let them know what you don’t like about the profession. Come to a meeting, get your boss to pay.

All of you must understand that our little chapter is highly respected at the State level. Our opinion is highly considered at the State Board Meeting. This is because we have a well-deserved reputation of being active, fair and professional. We earned the reputation over the course of two decades and we need to work at maintaining it. The one thing I know for sure is we have the people in this area to continue carrying the torch, all we need to do is get them involved.

One last thing, I want to personally thank Bryce for the work he has continually put into the Parallax, as well as other things. I know it is not easy, and I know he has better things to do, but he continues to get it out on time.

Humbly;

Tom Mastin

(Very well done, thanks Tom. Ed.)

Thoughts on GPS...

By Robert Reese, PLS

Here are a couple of suggestions that I have been using as part of the QC process for GPS field work. I thought I would pass them along in the hopes that this might be useful to others.

-R.J.Reese

When doing GPS observations, you may want to consider making a couple of calls on the way to the job.

The first is the NANU (Notice Advisory to NavStar Users) access number offered by the Coast Guard, 703.313.5907, a toll call. This gives current GPS status of individual PRNs, which ones are currently off line, which ones are anticipated to be off line and for how long and which ones were off line and for how long. Projections are subject to correction. Alternatively, the web address for the same, albeit expanded, information is <http://www.navcen.uscg.gov/gps/default.htm>. Here you can get NANUs and sign up for the NANUs in various forms and find lots of interesting stuff on GPS. If you have a marginal site, checking the NANU on the observation day could obviate the need to return if you can plan around a critical satellite that is scheduled for outage.

The second number is to the report offered by NOAA (National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration) phone in Colorado at 303.497.3235. A contributor to poor data is heavy ionosphere activity or solar activity. Currently, we are at the top of the 11 year sunspot cycle and solar activity (which impinges on the ionization in upper atmospheres, which can influence signal attenuation from the GPS constellation) may increase unexpectedly. If you have the luxury of being able to postpone an observation period due to high solar flux or solar events, this call can be useful. There are several items reported VERY quickly on a recording that you will have to listen to several times to get the format. Basically, you are given several indices of solar and geomagnetic conditions. The first is solar flux levels, second is an estimated Boulder A index and then a Boulder K index (computed every 3 hours) for ionospheric reactions to proton events, flares, etc. Then you are given the past 24-hour level of solar and earth's geomagnetic field activity. Finally, you are given the forecast 24-hour solar and earth's geomagnetic field activity. If you are interested in space weather, a search for "ionosphere" or a visit to <http://www.sec.noaa.gov> for the NOAA's Space Environment Center will be valuable. For a glossary on sun stuff, go to <http://www.sec.noaa.gov/info/glossary.html>.

Dorothy has always been right: we're not in Kansas anymore. In the future, I intend to provide a brief article that will parse the message provided by NOAA as well as explain some of indices and the rudimentary mechanics of the sun/spacewind/earth energy

CLSA Board Meeting Report July 28, 2001

Our chapter did not submit a Quarterly Chapter Report to the board prior to this meeting. We need to make sure that we submit both the last quarter and current quarter reports prior to the board meeting in October.

Only five chapters had submitted their Roster of Corporate Members prior to the meeting. Our chapter was not one of them. We submitted it on July 30 (prior to the August 1 deadline!)

Mark Van Zuuk, President –elect, will be contacting the chapter to try to set up a time to talk to the chapter at one of our monthly meetings. (There are not many left this year.)

The by-law amendments being proposed should be reviewed by the chapter at our next meeting and comments returned to the board. One proposed change is that CE Corporate members will no longer need to be approved by vote of the board but shall be endorsed by one regular Corporate member. The Humboldt Chapter asked whether there is interest in changing Section 8774 of the LS Act – Right of Entry -- by striking “to investigate and utilize boundary evidence, and” in the first sentence of subpart (a) and adding “as defined in Section 8726 of the Professional Land Surveyors Act” after the existing “to perform surveys”. Commensurate changes would also need to be made in the corresponding section of the Civil Code. The boards consensus was to “let sleeping dogs lie” since any review by State Legislators might result in a reduced right of entry. We will have copies of the proposed changes available at the meeting.

There is a CLSA sponsored ALTA seminar coming up on Friday, September 14 in Sacramento and Saturday, September 15 in Newport Beach. The flyer is available if you're interested. (Our chapter is hoping to set one up this fall with Roy Minnick.)

The Santa Clara/San Mateo County Chapter of CLSA is sponsoring a Land Description seminar on Friday, September 28 in Milpitas. A brochure will be available at the next meeting if interested.

The CLSA web site has been updated. The new user name is your own name and the password is “chains” (lower case).

We need to start thinking about scholarship auction items for the conference next year. This will not be a joint conference. It will be CLSA only so we need as much support at we can give. It will be at South Lake Tahoe March 24 through 28 at Harveys. Info will be posted on the web site.

We need to discuss whether or not our chapter is interested in a dual membership discount for NSPS/ACSM. If you wish to belong to either of those and CLSA a fee discount may be available. We need to know if there is any interest from our chapter. There was some discussion that membership in NSPS might become mandatory for CLSA members.

The statistics for the last PLS exam are as follows:

Possible score	975
Passing score	451 (46%)
Passing exams	21%
New PLS's	103
